Trust in God

I recently had the opportunity to participate in the Cor retreat through Campus Ministry. The name Cor is Latin for heart and it refers to God's love - the center of all love.

Halfway through the retreat we did a trust-walk where a co-retreatant silently guided me around the grounds with my eyes closed for a few minutes. Before the Trust-Walk I was apprehensive and nervous, but I gave it a try. Afterwards, I reflected on the experience:

"During the trust-walk, I was in the dark. I didn't know where I was going, who was leading me or what the purpose of the path was. I questioned why we walked where we did, but got no answers. I just trusted. I needed to embrace the silence and trust."

I found many similarities between challenges of the trust-walk and how God leads me. I realized that at this point in my life, I do not know where God is guiding me. The idea that I do not control exactly what happens next can be uncomfortable and, as a junior, the mystery of what will happen in my post-graduation life and relationships concerns me. However, even in this uncertainty, I believe God is calling me to grow.

Just as I learned to do in the trust-walk, I am being invited to trust God, myself and those around me when my path seems uneven. As I continue to explore my faith through prayer and daily reflection and make choices about coursework and a career, I hope to develop a more trusting heart and greater conviction in God's guidance. By nurturing a trusting heart, I hope to connect more fully with God and those around me.

As we begin to look towards the end of the first semester, where is God inviting you?

Make your mark at Mass!
Does hospitality run in your family? Help people feel welcome at Mass as a hospitality minister! Is your room Pinterest-worthy? Join our church environment committee and decorate the Church for the seasons! Is serving second nature? Help Mass flow smoothly as an altar server! If you are interested in joining any of these important ministries, contact Katie Anderson Kuo at kanderson26@fordham.edu to get involved!

LGBTQ Spirituality Group
Begun just last year, this group offers a safe space for LGBTQ students to discuss matters of faith, spirituality, and being LGBTQ. If interested in joining or would like more information, contact Joan Cavanagh, jcavanagh@fordham.edu.

ReFreshment!
Thursday, November 19 - 7:30 PM
McKeon 22nd Floor
Join other freshmen for a break from studies, for some reflection and refreshment. This month's topic will reflect on your own story, gifts, and talents and how you might use them to face some of the challenges of college life.
